JET Machine & Design sets up shop in Volusia County

Team Volusia Economic Development Corporation is pleased to announce JET Machine & Design Inc. has selected a site in DeLand as the location for their high-tech design and manufacturing facility. Previously operating in Seminole County, JET Machine & Design selected a building within close proximity to the DeLand Municipal Airport.

JET Machine & Design worked with Team Volusia and the City of DeLand on site selection and securing performance-based incentives. The company purchased a 23,400 square foot building and will create 17 jobs at an average wage of $41,288, with an estimated capital investment of $908,000.

JET Machine & Design is a leader in design, machining and manufacturing services to customers within the aerospace, defense, medical and commercial markets across North America and Europe. The company also provides professional machine design/engineering and concurrent engineering support to its customers with a fully staffed finishing and assembly department and is controlled by ISO 9001:2008 instructions.
