TEAMVOLUSIA

GREATER DAYTONA REGION

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

The planets are lining up with Volusia County as the community's profile among the aviation and aerospace industries is soaring. When considering location, education, workforce, government, and community resolve, Volusia County is emerging as a player in the competition for aviation and aerospace projects.

This is not to say that projects in other industries take a back seat. In fact, every project contributes to Volusia County's strength as a competitor for all projects. The announcement by Team Volusia and the City of Deltona for plans of a 1.4 million square foot Amazon.com fulfillment center made news throughout the Southeast. Whether projects are guided by Team Volusia Economic Development Corporation, one of its economic development partners, or the private sector, if our community is under consideration for those projects, the community will remain competitive for future projects. Success is cumulative.

In 2019, several projects landed in Volusia County, and even more continue to evaluate our community as a potential site for relocation or expansion. Economic development activity continues to increase throughout Volusia County. All areas of Volusia County welcomed new companies and/or corporate expansion, jobs and capital investment to their areas.

While indicators support continued economic development success throughout Volusia County, our focus on aviation and aerospace is sharpening. Team Volusia Economic Development Corporation is leading this effort.

Read on for a closer look at Team Volusia's robust activity in 2019, a year in which we were particularly successful in exceeding our goals in the critical areas of capital investment, new job creation and payroll growth.

Team Volusia continues to raise the visibility of Volusia County throughout the world with a variety of outreach activities and innovative marketing strategies. We are excited at the opportunities that lie ahead because we are well-positioned to compete at the highest levels. In fact, the sky's the limit.

REACHING FOR THE STARS!

THE PLAN FOCUSES ON FIVE KEY AREAS:

ORGANIZATIONAL SERVICES & DELIVERY

BUSINESS RECRUITMENT

MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

WORKFORCE & TALENT

INNOVATION & ENTREPRENEURSHIP

NAVIGATING FOR SUCCESS

Team Volusia's program of work is guided by carefully crafted strategies. We follow the meticulous Strategy for Success, adopted in 2017. The plan ensures the community is responsive to the needs of prospective companies in targeted industries through five strategic initiatives highlighted within the plan.

VOLUSIA SITE READINESS PROGRAM

To encourage new industrial development, Team Volusia worked in partnership with Quest Site Solutions, an international engineering and site selection firm. Local real estate professionals, property owners and public partners served on TVEDC's Real Estate Task Force designed to analyze and prioritize site improvements in order to encourage new development within the county.

COMPETITOR INCENTIVE ANALYSIS

TVEDC engaged with Ryan, LLC, an international economic development finance specialist, to complete a competitiveness assessment of Volusia County incentives as compared to other communities inside and outside the State of Florida.

TALENT RECRUITMENT

Based on the ever-expanding role and latest trends within economic development, TVEDC kick started a three-year partnership with Livability Media, a national quality of place and relocation organization to begin a new multimedia campaign that encourages business investment as well as talent recruitment and relocation.

EXPANDING OUR ORBIT!

New to Volusia County

2019 Projects

Each year, Team Volusia Economic Development Corporation works directly with prospective companies and/or site selectors interested in Volusia County as a place for possible expansion or relocation. Prospective companies that have been identified as a good fit for the community comprise our “pipeline.” They include companies in high tech specialty fields such as: aviation and aerospace; logistics; and manufacturing amongst others. In 2019, Team Volusia worked with the following seven companies who have committed to operations in Volusia County:

FUTURE FOODS
DUMPH! PAOW!

Future Foods (Project Restore)

Future Foods Enterprises, LLC, a food manufacturer and importer, has selected Ormond Beach as the site of a new manufacturing and distribution plant. Future Foods specializes in the production of meat substitutes derived from plant-based proteins such as soy, peas and beans. The vegetable protein is formed and can be used in a variety of food applications. Team Volusia EDC worked closely with the City of Ormond Beach Economic Development Department and SVN Alliance throughout the site selection process.

Another family of products has been created for animal consumption and focuses on aiding internal issues such as digestion as well as external issues such as hair and skin care. Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University worked with partners including Team Volusia in landing Arralis, a new tenant of The John Mica Engineering and Aerospace Innovation Complex, also known as The MicaPlex. The MicaPlex presents a unique collaborative opportunity for business and the university community to develop, refine and bring new products and technological services to the market. Arralis, a global leader in high-tech communications and radar technology, qualifies for this high-tech incubator environment. The announcement was made by university president P. Barry Butler at the 2019 Paris Air Show. Landing this project illustrates Volusia County’s growing presence in the aviation and aerospace industries. It also serves as a catalyst in attracting other companies engaged in rapidly evolving emerging technologies.

The team operates seven days a week delivering merchandise door to door to customers within the community. Company officials contacted TVEDC to assist with its real estate and talent attraction efforts. The fulfillment center will be the first tenant in Deltona’s Portland Industrial Park and already has sparked interest from other potential tenants. The Deltona location along the I-4 High Tech Corridor offers the company many practical and strategic advantages. Team Volusia worked closely with Duke Energy, RMA, the City of Deltona as well as county and state officials to make this project a reality.

Throughout the process it was determined that Volusia County would be a good area to invest and develop a number of new limited service hotels. While not a typical target for TVEDC, the company has begun to invest throughout the county. To date, the Ormond Beach facility, which is focused on business travelers, is the first of several new facilities as the investment group is currently in negotiations on additional sites within the county.
