New Port Orange Clinic Brings Expanded Mental Health Services to Volusia County Residents

Port Orange, Florida, September 15, 2026 – Harmony United Psychiatric Care (Harmony United), a leading Florida-based provider of comprehensive mental health services, announced the opening of its newest outpatient clinic in Port Orange, expanding access to psychiatric care for residents across Volusia County and surrounding communities.

The new Port Orange clinic is located at 851 Dunlawton Avenue, Suite 102, Port Orange, and will provide outpatient behavioral health services for residents of Volusia County, and surrounding communities through both in-person and telehealth appointments, with same-day and next-day appointments often available.

According to national and state data, demand for outpatient mental health services continues to rise, with many Florida communities facing provider shortages and extended wait times for psychiatric appointments.

"Access to quality mental healthcare should not depend on where someone lives," said Dr. Mohammed, CEO and Medical Director of Harmony United Psychiatric Care. "Our new Port Orange location allows us to bring compassionate, evidence-based behavioral healthcare closer to the individuals and families who need it most throughout Volusia County."

The new location will provide care for children (ages 5+), adolescents, adults, and older adults throughout Volusia County. Harmony United's model emphasizes coordinated outpatient care, consistent follow-up, and a seamless blend of in-person and virtual services to support long-term well-being. Its multidisciplinary approach brings together psychiatry, psychology, therapy, testing, and advanced treatment options to provide comprehensive behavioral healthcare for individuals and families across the community.

"We are proud to bring Harmony United's integrated approach to behavioral healthcare to Port Orange and the greater Volusia County community," Dr. Mohammed added.

"Having Harmony United Psychiatric Care located here centrally in the heart of our community is a blessing in many ways," said Donald O. Burnette, President and CEO, Port Orange South Daytona Chamber of Commerce. "The services they will provide are essential for a healthy community, and I look forward to their incredible and much-needed contributions to continue to help move us all forward in health and happiness."
